This is the discussion section for our Math 221 class. Realize that you'll only be spending two hours a week in standard lecture, so these discussion sections are important. We will primarily use our time to discuss questions you have on the lectures and homework, and I expect active participation. We will also have a weekly quiz during these meetings. If you need to miss a quiz due to illness or university related activity, bring appropriate documentation and we'll work something out. Advance notice is significantly preferred. If you have disability concerns, I need to see a DRES letter as soon as possible.

Phones should not be used. I would prefer they be turned to silent or turned off entirely: even on a vibrate setting many phones are distracting. Do not text during class.

If you have any problems with the course that you would like passed along anonymously to Dr. Reznick, you can do that through me. Likewise, if you have a problem with me, but don't want to talk to me directly, you can talk to Dr. Reznick.

I am (like Dr. Reznick) very bad with names. I will make an extra effort to learn your names, but please be patient with me.
